A message from the President

It feels very good to be back home at Abele Tree House after my little mishap.

I would like to thank all those who sent me best wishes for my recovery. I hope that 2012 will be less eventful for me personally.

Much is happening this year at Fairlynch. The Olympics, the Queen's Jubilee and the R.F.Delderfield centenary will all be reflected in activities at the Museum.

2012 is also the year of Scott of the Antarctic, with nationwide ceremonies to mark his achievements as well as the centenary of his death and those of his companions. Fairlynch has been privileged to share in the celebrations of the great Antarctic adventure through the Museum's much-acclaimed 'Survival!' exhibition marking the life and achievements of George Murray Levick, the naval surgeon and former Budleigh resident chosen by Scott for his 'Terra Nova' expedition.

I am delighted that 'Survival!' will continue during this second, very special year. The Museum is so grateful to the donors who were kind enough to lend us rare artefacts, including many of Commander Levick's personal effects, which have never before been on public view. This exhibition has in no small measure helped to generate the publicity which Fairlynch enjoyed last year, and I am sure that the Scott effect will contribute to further success in 2012.

Scott and Levick were extraordinary individuals who faced the harshest of environments, fending for themselves in a way that would be inconceivable in today's world of satellite phones and digital technology. We have much to learn from their achievements.

Do go and see 'Survival!' if you have not already visited it.

Diary

Winter talks (WTs) held at the Peter Hall. Start time 7.00 pm for 7.30 pm. Refreshments before the start of the Talk.

MONDAY 6 FEBRUARY (WT)

'A World War remembered.' Fairlynch press officer Michael Downes will describe how he set about researching, writing and publishing the book Oundle's War.

MONDAY 5 MARCH 10.00 am

The next Fairlynch Stewards' meeting will be held at Fairlynch. We – the Stewards – will be given an introduction by those who are producing next season's exhibitions at Fairlynch. They will tell us what they are putting together and why, so we can pass on this information to our Fairlynch visitors.

We will also be told how the new cash register works, and finally we will have a short meeting where we can discuss items of more general interest to all Stewards. As last time, the Agenda for this meeting, as well as the Minutes of the latest meeting will be made available.

MONDAY 12 MARCH (WT)

Marion Lindsey-Noble, biographer of R.F. Delderfield, will talk about this local author as part of the centenary celebrations of his birth.

FRIDAY 6 APRIL 10.00 am -12 midday Friends' Coffee Morning at Fairlynch. 2.00 - 4.30 pm Museum open to visitors.

SATURDAY 7 APRIL 2.00 pm Museum re-opens.

MONDAY 23 APRIL 10.00 am General Committee meeting at Fairlynch.

SATURDAY 12 MAY Cream teas, stalls and entertainments at Fairlynch 2.00 - 4.30 pm. Contributions? Phone Marion on 446723.

MONDAY 14 MAY 7.00 pm

Annual General Meeting of Fairlynch Museum at the Peter Hall.

SATURDAY 2 JUNE

Fairlynch stall at Gala Week opening. Don't forget to keep aside any spare plants especially if you sow seeds or take cuttings. They are a popular item for sale.

Do you have an email address?

If so, and you are not already receiving online communications from Fairlynch, you may like to make sure that you are up to the minute with Museum news. Simply email the Editor via mr.downes@gmail.com and we will see that you are kept informed.

Tony Colmer (1940-2011)

Brought up in Wimbledon, Tony Colmer gained a degree in Modern History while studying at The Queen's College, Oxford. He spent his working life with the Inland Revenue as one of Her Majesty's Inspectors of Taxes.

He met his wife Angela Traylen in the late 1960s. After Tony retired they came to live in Budleigh Salterton in 2006.

They became active members of both Fairlynch Museum and the Otter Valley Association. Angela, with a degree in Archaeology, contributed much to the Fairlynch archaeology collection, while Tony catalogued the Museum's map collection and joined the OVA Built Environment Committee.

Angela's death in 2007 after a very short illness was a major blow, but Tony soon decided to continue her work on the revision of the Fairlynch archaeological collection, and he remained dedicated to that task until the recent diagnosis of his own illness. He had recently paid for Fairlynch's acquisition of a medieval silver-gilt finger-ring found at Newton Poppleford, intending that it should serve as a memorial to Angela.

The meticulous approach to work which had served him so well as a tax inspector made him a valuable member of the Fairlynch curatorial team.

Those who saw Tony in his last few weeks were impressed by his quiet courage. He expressed no complaints, only appreciation of the support he received both at home in Budleigh Salterton and in Exmouth Hospital. He was a wise and a gentle man, and he will be much missed.

Tony Colmer, former tax inspector and curator at Fairlynch Museum, was born on 15 March 1940. He died on 18 September 2011, aged 71.

Fairlynch people

The Museum has gained two new Trustees recently, and the good news is that the latest to be appointed is looking forward to leading Fairlynch as its Chairman. Roger Sherriff and his wife Maureen are relative newcomers to East Devon, having moved from Lymington, Hampshire, but are full of enthusiasm for Budleigh and all it has to offer. Both retired, they enjoy walking, good food and theatre and are impressed by the number of festivals in the town. Roger's previous background was in the Civil Service. Before coming to Budleigh he was involved as a volunteer with Hurst Castle, the fortress originally built by Henry VIII to defend the western approach to the Solent and now open to the public.

Roger also participated in conservation work for the Forestry Commission in the New Forest and worked for the charity Tools for Self Reliance which provides refurbished tools to groups in Africa. He is hoping as Chairman of Fairlynch to work in partnership with a wide range of voluntary organisations and businesses in the area, as well as to develop a long-term strategy for the Museum's development.

Roger is keen to meet Friends of Fairlynch, and welcomes approaches from those who would like to share their ideas about the Museum's future with him. He can be contacted by email at r.d.sherriff@waitrose.com

The late Tony Colmer's good work at the Museum will be carried on by local archaeologist Jill Cobby. Jill has had a longstanding interest in the excavations that have been carried out on Woodbury Common, having worked closely with Professor Chris Tilley and his team. She has an Archaeology degree and recently completed an MA on the subject of Medieval Gardens.

The Museum's Trustees are delighted that she has agreed to join Fairlynch's team of volunteer helpers.

A round-up of recent news

Fairlynch Museum's volunteer gardeners - Ann Hurt, Lynn Weeks and Sylvia Merkel - were awarded a top place by the 2011 Budleigh in Bloom judges in the 'community gardens' category.

Books on sale in the Museum include The Longest Winter by author and Antarctica expert Meredith Hooper, a recent visitor to Fairlynch who made a special visit to see the 'Survival!' exhibition which she praised as 'very accessible, clear, and inviting.'

We said farewell and thank you to Hugh Williams for his contribution as a Trustee of Fairlynch Endowment Fund, following his move from Budleigh to London. An article in the Daily Mirror of 7 October showed Fairlynch Museum coming top in the list of places to visit in Budleigh Salterton. Local author Jan Oake, whose Major Glad, Major Dizzy was published last August, acknowledged her "considerable" debt to Fairlynch records in the Museum's Local History Room during her research for the work, her second book for children.

Speakers at the 2011-12 Friends of Fairlynch Winter Talks have included Devon-based craftsman Tobias Kaye explaining how his wooden sounding bowls are used in music therapy, including palliative care; in addition, Simon and Sue Lilly gave an insight into the work they do as teachers of a range of subjects including Tree Spirit Healing, Essences, Crystal Therapy, Core Shamanic techniques and Astrology; recently, therapists Yig Labworth and Will Wilson explained how they help people recover from trauma.

Two displays illustrating aspects of Fairlynch Museum took place in Budleigh Salterton Library in June and September. A birthday cake to celebrate the Jurassic Coast's 10th birthday was ceremonially cut by the Town Mayor Cllr Dick Mitchell, who met the Museum's Chairman Roger Sherriff, pictured right with Fairlynch volunteer helpers.

The latest Fairlynch Museum newsletter is now on the website at www.devonmuseums.net/fairlynch If you would prefer to receive the newsletter online rather than hard copy, please let the Editor know this by email to mr.downes@gmail.com

Money matters

The Museum has recently received some generous legacies which will enable us to proceed with much needed work on refurbishment of the shop. Such gifts by those who remember Fairlynch with affection and value its place in Budleigh Salterton are deeply appreciated by all those concerned with running the Museum.

In addition, donations totalling £56.85 were made by participants in the Walk with Words on 18 September as part of Budleigh Salterton Literary Festival. The cream tea event on 24 September at Fairlynch, with stalls selling everything from books to plants, raised £465.80 for museum funds. Organiser Marion Johnson said she was delighted with the success of the event and would like to thank fellow-volunteers for their hard work, as well as Budleigh businesses Daniel K. Neaves and Ocean House Café & Deli for their contributions to the raffle. The showing of the film The Great White Silence on 26 October, an event organised jointly with the Otter Valley Association and the Budleigh Salterton Film Society resulted in a boost of £238.35 for Museum funds.
