GUIDED WALKS

The William Pengelly Cave Studies Centre at Buckfastleigh, Devon will be open for guided walks on every Wednesday and Thursday in August

Walks start at 11am and 2pm

Find out about where the local rocks came from - an amazing story of 350 million years of development with volcanoes, coral reefs and a huge mountain chain - all in Devon.

Learn about the caves and how they were formed.

Visit a cave and see the remains of elephant, hippo, bison, hyaena and many other creatures that lived in Devon 100,000 years ago.

Discover how limestone burning was big business in the 19th century.

Walks take about 1½ hours. No booking is needed - just turn up.

No special clothing is needed.

There is a charge.
